DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of Applicant's Amendment and Request for Continued Examination filed on 10/29/2007.

- Claims 1, 10, 58 and 60 have been amended.
- Claim 59 has been cancelled.
- Claims 1-3, 8-12, 17, 58 and 60 are pending in the instant application.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/29/2007 has been entered.

Double Patenting

Claims 1-3, 8-12, 17, 58 and 60 provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over copending Application No. 10/264,886 and 10/891,895 are maintained for reasons of record filed on 02/10/2006 in the previous office action.

Note, it is acknowledged that Applicant request that this rejection be held in abeyance until the conflicting claims are in fact patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 58 and 60 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement are withdrawn in view of Applicant's Amendment.

However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made as discussed below.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. This is a new matter rejection.

Claims 1 and 10 recite the newly amended limitation of "50 to about 70%";

however, the specification as-filed does not provide a written description or set forth the metes and bounds of this phrase. The specification only disclosed "about 35% to about 70%" and "50%". The instant claims now recite limitations which were not clearly disclosed in the specification as-filed and now change the scope of the instant disclosure as-filed. Such limitations recited in the present claims, introduce new concepts and thus violate the written description requirement of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. §112.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the response to this Office action. Alternatively, Applicant is invited to identify sufficient written support in the original specification for the "limitations" indicated above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-3, 8-12, 17,58 and 60 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over REMMEREIT (US 6,042,869) in view of HAND et al (US 5,431,927) and HANNAH et al (Increased dietary protein spares lean body mass during weight loss in dogs. Journal of Veterinary Internal Medicine. 1998:12. pg. 224) are withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendment.

However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made as discussed below.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 8-12, 17 and 58-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over REMMEREIT (US 6,042,869) in view of HAND et al (US 5,431,927), HANNAH et al (Increased dietary protein spares lean body mass during weight loss in dogs. Journal of Veterinary Internal Medicine. 1998:12. pg. 224) and SUNVOLD (US 6,071,544).

Applicant's claims are directed to a process for producing a pet food product comprising the steps of adding: 50-70% of protein; 4-10% of fat; 5-25% of fiber; 10-35% of carbohydrate; and 0.1-1% of a functional ingredient, such as conjugated linoleic acid. Wherein, the fat comprises of essential long-chain fatty acids and the composition is a dry or semi-moist pet food.

REMMEREIT disclosed a dry or semi-moist dog food comprised of functional ingredients, such as 0.1-2.5% of conjugated linoleic acid (see col. 14, line 1-50; col. 3, line 22-35; and abstract) and linoleic acid (see col. 3, line 28), which is an essential long-chain fatty acid. REMMEREIT further disclosed that the addition of conjugated linoleic acid in pet food increases the lean to fat ratio, effectively reducing body fat, and increases feed conversion efficiency in animals (see col. 1, line 55-64). REMMEREIT disclosed the dog food further contain meat, soy, animal fat, and wheat, which are protein, fiber, fat, and carbohydrate (see col. 14, line 1-49).

However, REMMEREIT does not disclose the actual percentage of the protein, fat, fiber, and carbohydrate in the dog food.

HAND disclosed a typical pet food (see col. 8, line 32) product comprised of: 10-35% of protein; 10-20% of fat; 10-25% of fiber; and 35-70% of carbohydrate, which are within Applicant's ranges except for protein.

HANNAH disclosed a high protein diet, such as 45% protein, would spare lean body mass during weight loss when compared to a lower dietary protein diet, such as 35%. Additional disclosure includes: the percent of fat loss increases with the increase of dietary protein intake (see Table).

SUNVOLD disclosed a dietary composition for promoting healthy weight loss in cats wherein the composition comprised 28-50% of protein.

It would have been obvious to the person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the ranges of 50% of protein or more; 10-20% of fat; 10-25% of fiber; and 35-70% of carbohydrate into REMMEREIT's dog food composition. The person of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make those modifications, because these percentages are typical ranges in pet food and a high protein diet would increase the lean to fat ratio that REMMEREIT was seeking, and reasonably would have expected success because REMMEREIT disclosed dog food that contain protein, fat, fiber, carbohydrate, and conjugated linoleic acid.

Note, it would have been obvious for the person of ordinary skill in the art to use higher percentage of protein in the dietary composition, since HANNAH disclosed the percent of fat loss increases with the increase of dietary protein intake.
